If you're celebrating a recent engagement, let me wish you a great big CONGRATULATIONS on behalf of the crew at Show Me The Ozarks Magazine!

Planning your wedding is one of the most exciting seasons in life. You deserve the wedding of your dreams as you embark on the next big chapter of life alongside your beloved.

We're here to help! We present to you the 2022 Wedding Guide! This handy guide will take you from proposal to honeymoon.

While wedding planning can be an absolute blast, it can also be hard to know where to begin. There are so many "to dos" to check off before the "I dos" that it can get a little overwhelming at times. That's why we included a handy checklist on page 10. This list covers everything, all in one place. You'll find easy-to-follow checklists covering clothing, food, florals, decor, entertainment and more. There is space to track your spending so you can stay on schedule and on budget. When it comes to choosing your vendors, we also have the area's best names in business right here in one place.

For a more in-depth explanation of what to do first and why, check out page 12. This list covers the important tasks to knock out early that will make the rest of the planning so much easier.

For help choosing a theme, page 14 has the top wedding trends forecasted for 2022.

And while you're planning the look and feel of your wedding, check out page 16 for the dos and don'ts of decorations.

Next, page 18 has all the FAQs involving registries, like what to ask for, how much to ask for and other etiquette pointers to know.

Last, but not least, a real newlywed offered insight into how she avoided wedding-planning stress. Her story is on page 20.

Congratulations from all of us at Show Me The Ozarks Magazine! Wishing you all the best as you plan your happily ever after!

What to Do First After

Getting Engaged

Congratulations, you're engaged! You are probably feeling a whirlwind of emotions, and if confusion about where to begin on wedding planning is one of them, this page is for you! If you nail down these five things from the beginning, the rest will fall into place.

Make the Big Announcement.

If you haven't already, call your loved ones or tell them in person. Then, tell the world on social media! (If that's your style, that is.)

Celebrate.

Some couples throw an engagement party, and others have a low-key dinner. However you decide to celebrate, take some time to savor the moment before jumping headfirst into wedding planning.

Set a Date.

Setting a date and knowing how much time you will have to plan will determine a lot about your wedding-planning process.

Set a Budget.

Talk to your fiancé and anyone else who may be contributing financially and set a budget. This will help you decide where to save and splurge and what to eliminate going forward.

Make a Timeline.

The wedding-planning timeline on page 10-11 of this book is a great one to follow. It includes all the tasks and divides them up month by month so you don't get overwhelmed. Take it and tweak it for your own unique wedding!

Top Wedding Trends

As you plan the look and feel of your wedding, here are some of the hottest trends to look to for inspiration this year.

Regency Inspired

Inspired by the popular show "Bridgerton," this trend is all about whimsical, romantic florals and idyllic pastoral scenes. It overlaps with shabby chic and cottagecore themes.

Vintage Elements

Hit the flea markets! Vintage and antique furniture and accessories are going to make a statement at weddings in 2022.

Garden Weddings

Small, outdoor settings surged in popularity due to the pandemic. Think backyard weddings or venues with indoor/outdoor space.

Moody Color Palettes

Deep hues such as gray, purple, navy and black are making a big comeback, especially for fall and winter weddings.

Bright & Bold Florals

Confetti-style explosions of florals in bright colors are a huge trend in 2022. Think wildflowers or pampas grass in shades like hot pink, mustard yellows, lilac and peach.

Dos and Don'ts of Wedding Decorations

Decorations are an area where it can be easy to blow the budget. Here are some tips to keep yourself on track as you style your venue.

DO rent your decor. Our area has many fabulous wedding rental services that can provide most (if not all) of your decor at a fraction of the price of buying it yourself.

DON'T overdo it. Decorative items and knick-knacks are something many brides report overspending on for the amount of impact they actually had at the wedding.

DO get off Pinterest. At a certain point, you have to stop looking at Pinterest for ideas and stick to the plan you have. With never-ending decor ideas, Pinterest can lead to overwhelm and overspending.

DON'T DIY everything. DIY might sound like a great way to save, but many past brides report actually spending more on DIY projects and feeling stressed about the extra time it took to make everything.

DO talk to your florist. You might be surprised how much of the decor your florist can provide, like greenery and floral installations. Your florist can do a lot more than just bouquets and boutonnieres.

All About Registries

Registry etiquette is something that confuses many soon-to-be-married couples. Here are the answers to some of those tricky questions.

Where Should We Register?

Provide your guests with at least two locations to choose from – one at a higher price point and one at a lower price point. Make sure at least one of them has an online shopping option.

What Should We Ask For?

Take inventory of the household items you and your fiancé have between you and determine what you still need. Also, don't be shy! This is the time to ask for the fine china and good bed sheets. Your loved ones want to bless you during this time.

How Much Should We Ask For?

A good rule of thumb is to register for two items per guest. So, if you're inviting 200 people, register for 400 items. It may sound like a lot, but your guests will appreciate having options.

What Price Points Are Appropriate?

Include a mix of higher- and lower-priced items. Your parents might go for the big-ticket items but be sure to include plenty of affordable options, too.

When Should We Register?

A good rule of thumb is to register before sending the invitations but after sending Save The Dates.

How Do We Tell People About the Registry?

Your wedding website is a great place to include details and links to your registry. If you're not doing a wedding website, then including a small details card with the invitation (this card may also include hotel and transportation information) is another good choice.

BONUS: How Do We Ask for Money Instead of Gifts?

Tradition states that asking for money can be viewed as rude, but with couples waiting to wed until later in life, many find themselves in a situation where they already have all the household items they need. Using a cash registry website like Zola or Honeyfund is a subtle way to ask for moolah.

From a Real Bride

How I Avoided Wedding-planning Stress

Photos by Juliana Noelle Jumper

My husband and I just got married in July 2021, and I can tell you truthfully that I loved every step of the wedding-planning process. From the dress to the cakes to the flowers – I felt like I was born to plan a wedding!

To be honest, I had been planning my wedding since long before I ever met my fiancé. I had Pinterest boards on top of Pinterest boards with images of fairy tale weddings (and, of course, no thought whatsoever went into the budget of my imaginary Pinterest weddings!) So, when it came time to start planning for real, I knew I was at risk of overwhelming myself with Pinspiration and a big whopping case of option paralysis.

Here are some things I did to avoid stress when planning my wedding:

I made a schedule and followed it. Our engagement lasted for exactly one year, so I researched everything that went into wedding planning (including the often-forgotten details) and when each item needed to be done. Then, I divided up the tasks by month, stuck the big list on a bulletin board and focused on moving through it, one thing at a time.

I made decisions and stuck with them. I made all the decisions about the look and feel of our wedding before I met with a single vendor or purchased a single item. With all the research and decisions made, all I had to do was focus on executing my vision.

I asked for help. I found that my friends and family were more than happy to help. Be willing to let go of the reins and let your loved ones pitch in where they can. I can't begin to express how much stress they took off me.

I hired a day-of coordinator. Shout out to Michelle Renken from Poised and Polished Events. She handled all the comings and goings of the big day so we could kick back and enjoy. She also provided most of the decor and handled pretty much all of the set up. She was a godsend!

I kept things in perspective. When you start to feel the pressure to make everything perfect, remember that at the end of the day, your only job is to marry your best friend!
